

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The MEDOSSIC project (Mediterranean Organization Structure and Strengthening of Innovation Capacities for Sustainable Development) is focused on strengthening strategic cooperation between subjects in the field of economic development, representatives of national institutions and other organizations and environmental support agencies from the field of so-called innovations for sustainable development.

Ten partners from seven countries are participating in this project: Slovenia, Spain, Italy, Cyprus, Greece, Croatia, and Montenegro. The project is coordinated by Regional Development Agency of the Innerkarst Region, and two other Slovenian agencies are also cooperating in the project, namely Regional Development Centre Koper and Development Centre Novo mesto. The project will be carried out over two years and is expected to end in May 2011; whereby, the project partners already plan for the activities to continue after the finalization of the project.

The project is financed by the European Union within the MED programme. This also promotes international partnership in the Mediterranean area through financing priority projects for this area. The total value of the project amounts to 1.126 million EUR.

PROJECT INFORMATION

Duration of the project:	April 2009 – May 2011
Budget:	1.126.581,00 EUR
European Regional Development Fund:	905.579,00 EUR
National funding:	221.002,00 EUR

PROJECT OBJECTIVE

The focus of the project is to establish within each region a pilot structure or programme that will offer support to participants with their realization of eco-innovations, whether through consultations or provision of information or in any other way whatsoever, which have been established as a necessity in the environment observed through the course of an analysis. Through project activities, partners will promote cooperation between institutions from different sectors from the participating regions, which will have a positive effect on economic excellence and competitiveness.

PROJECT ACTIVITIES

Partners have prepared several key activities for promoting cooperation:

- Analysis of the existing situation in individual regions and a comparison of project partners.
- Review of good practices in the field of innovation for sustainable development.
- Development of strategic and operating plans for establishing pilot structures in regions.
- Development and integration of services within the information system and consulting and education in the field of innovation for sustainable development.
- Provision of information, communication and effective implementation of the subjected measures.
